The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) issued an Expanded Emergency Declaration for all 50 states and the District of Columbia. This provides Hours of Service (HOS) waivers for commercial motor vehicle operations providing direct assistance in support of emergency relief efforts related to the COVID-19 outbreaks, including transportation to meet immediate needs. This includes critical fuel supply.

In addition, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security has provided waivers for fueling services to the critical communications infrastructure including response fleet vehicles and generators to prevent communications outages.

Atlas continues to work with Government officials, fuel marketing industry organizations like SIGMA and our strategic partners to stay on top of the changing landscape. We will continue to provide updates as we closely monitor the situation. Atlas Oil's ability to use these waivers will be client specific and may vary load to load. Please reach out if you have any questions, 800.878.2000.
